

WELCOME

Thank you for taking the time to view the NEW lecture taping system. We believe this site does a great job of delivering lectures to students, faculty & staff in an intuitive environment, quick & easy. If you have any problems let us know via the feedback on the site. Before you try the system you might want to check out the information below to speed up the learning curve.

- Recording can only be done in the rooms listed below that are wired for audio and only when an instructor has completed a request for recording.

AQ 3003, 3005, 3149, 3150, 3153, 3154, 3159, 3181 and 3182
B9200, 9201
C9000, 9001, 9002
EDB 7618
K9500
RCB 8100
IMAGES

WMX 2503, 2507, 2531, 2532, 3210, 3220, 3250, 3260, 3510 and 3520

- Lecture recording files are available for listening within an hour of the end of the lecture. These are available in WMA and MP3.
- Only the course lecturer may request lectures to be recorded. If you are a student and you want to have your course lectures recorded, please discuss it with your professor.
- By default, class recordings are only available to the students currently registered in the course as well as those who are on the course mailing list, unless we are directed otherwise by the instructor.
- All class recordings are password protected. Student web access authentication is handled by ACS.
- As in the past, the copyright would remain with the lecturer.
- For instructors, if you are having problems accessing your lectures (authorization required error) please email webmaster@sfu.ca or lectures@sfu.ca . Do not forget to specify the name, number and section of the course you are teaching, as well as your full name, contact information and brief description of the problem.
- For instructors; if you wish to add additional people (TAs) to access your lecture recordings, please email webmaster@sfu.ca or lectures@sfu.ca . Do not forget to specify the name, number and section of the course your are teaching, your full name, contact information as well as the full name and email address of the person you want to allow to access your lecture recordings.
- At the end of the final exams, we will delete all class recordings, unless the lecturer initiates a request for copies. After which they will be deleted.